Spring Trade in Wall Paper Opening Earlier Than Usual.

TASTE FOR GOOD GOODS GROWING.

An Allegheny Factory Will Furnish Wall Decorations and

MEET A LONG FELT LOCAL WANT

The time for the opening of the spring trade in wallpaper lines varies with the weather. This season's trade opened up carlier than usual on account of the open weather. Orders began to come in by the partment. Last spring trade did not open up until the middle of March. The memorable blizzard last March, about the middle of the month, spoiled many a nice-laid plan of wallpaper dealers, as well as bringing anguish to many hearts in she land by furnishing food to the great destroyer.

Last season was one of the late ones for the wallpaper trade. This has been one of the earliest. But there is no knowing what the future has in store in the matter of weather.

A Denler Talks. An interview with W. H. Allen, one of our leading dealers in this line, called out the following statement of the situation and outlook of this important industry: "Pittsburg is always ready to catch on to new styles in house decorations, regardless of cost. If the latest decorations, regardless of cost. If the latest styles can be procured at home, our people prefer to get their goods at home. But it has only been within a very few years that they can get what they want in the line of wall decorations at home. Not many years ago decorations for halls and parlors were obtained from Philadelphia or New York. Now our people have discovered that the most artistic designs can be had at home at prices far below what they had to pay in former years in Eastern cities. The trade at home is now fully able to meet all demands in the line of wall adornments, and at prices which would have been a surprise to dealers a few years ago."

dealers a few years ago."

In the interview with the above mentioned dealer the fact was developed that a factory would in a few weeks be started in Allegheny would in a few weeks be started in Aliegaety City for the manufacture of wall paper of the very highest grade. A company with abun-dant capital has been organized, and has started off with an offer of handsome prizes for original designs, a new feature in Pittsburg's indus-tries. It is something new under the sun that which reaches to the four corners of the earth. Wall paper, with the Buffalo stamp, goes to Australia, Japan. China, and, in fact, to almost every country under the sun.

The new enterprise to be launched here this spring will aim to bring Western Pennsylvanni's metropolis into line that she may have her share of this trade. A leading dealer in wall paper speaking of the situation and outlook of this industry, said to-day: "The leading features of our trade are that a much higher grade of goods is demanded than in former years. The day of timed and shouldy is past. Our customers demand the best. The tastes of the people are steadily improving, and the ginger-bread decorations which would have passed muster a few years ago, are no longer salable. Prices are stiffening all along the line, but margins were never as close. Competition is sharp, and the man who wins now must hustle."

Very few Michigan X fleeces go at over 31c, though a higher range is asked. Kentucky and Missouri unwashed fleeces are held with confidence because the stock is very small. Territory wools are in very light supply and in good condition are scarce. California and Texas are fairly steady, but holders do not refuse a reasonable bid to clear up. Australian wool continues firm, with available supplies mostly in manufacturers' hands. BOSTON-The wool market has not developed

Sharp Break in Wheat Without Any Particular Reason for It - Corn Firmer and Onta Engler-Hog Products Stronger.

CHICAGO—Another sharp break occurred in wheat to-day, the inside figure for May being just 3½c lower than the outside price of yesterday, and the closing 2½c lower. July declined 3½c below yesterday's closing outside figure, and closed 1½c lower than yesterday's closing. It is difficult to give a reason for the weakness other than that there was but little demand, and that the offerings were quite large. A large local floor trader was reported as having unloaded a line of long wheat. The fine weather here and increase of 264,000 bushels on ocean passage may have helped the weakness. The opening was *#@lc lower than yesterday's closing, and for a while the market ruled fairly steady and prices even advanced Mc. But shortly after the opening the market began to weaken. It was found that some wheat was pressing on sale and there was only light demand and no effort made to support middle of February, in the wholesale deprices declining 3%c in a very short time. Later a 2c reaction followed, but this advance was again partially lost. A very fair business was reported in corn trading being quite active at times. The feel-ing developed was considerably firmer, there being a very good demand from shorts and other sources. The market opened at about other sources. The market opened at about the closing prices of yesterday, was easy for a time, then ruled stronger, gradually advancing %c, reacted %c, became steady and closed a shade higher than yesterday.

An easier feeling developed in oats, and prices declined %c% from yesterday's closing figures.

More than usual interest was developed in hog products during the early yart of the day, and trading was quite brisk. Prices fluctuated considerably, but on the whole range a material advance was established on all the leading articles. Pork was strong early and prices were advanced 30@35c on the closing figures of yesterday. At the improvement offerings were somewhat larger, and prices receded 10@15c and closed rather steady. In a less marked degree lard and short ribs followed the same course.

UNEXPECTED TUMBLE IN PETROLEUM

A seat in the Pittsburg Petroleum, Grain and Metal Exchange is valued at from $550 to $650. Everything considered, this is a very moderate price to pay for the privi-leges which a seat insures. Seats in the Cincinnati Exchange are held at about the same figure. In St. Louis and Chicago they are higher. In New York a membership in the Stock Exchange costs a small fortune, seats being held at $22,000. This is the highest figure ever reached there and is taken as an indication of a condition of prosperity never before attained. Exchanges are a great convenience to busi Exchanges are a great convenience to business men as well as the public generally, and their prosperity should be cause for general congratulation. The Pittsburg Exchange, which is comparatively new, is making rapid advances in membership and influence, and if the present able management be continued, it will in a few years be one of the most important institutions of the kind in the country.

Now that the Presidental succession has been settled by the induction of General Harrison, I think business will pick up," remarked a prominent financier yesterday. "Political uncertainty has kept it in the dumps ever since the "Do you like President Harrison's policy as utlined in his inaugural?" "I haven't had time to read it, and don't know what his policy is except in a general way. It is not his policy that I refer to as likely to give trade a fresh start—it is the exchange of a certainty for an uncertainty. Nothing is so paralyzing to a business man as to be compelled to work in the dark. He wants something tangible upon which to make his calculations and lay his plans. A change of administration lways causes more or less depression. It not only involves an element of uncertainty to pitalists, but it diverts the attention of large numbers of people from the ordinary affairs and duties of life to political movements and speculations, to the great injury of business. Now that we have passed this critical period, I expect an era of good times to set in which will be felt in every branch of industry."

"Would the lengthening of the Presidental

erm be in the interest of business?"
"I think it would. Elections come too close together. We are scarcely through with one until plans are laid and the wires worked for another. This keeps the country constantly torn up, and makes politics a regular trade or profession. There are about 3,000,000 of pro ssional politicians in the country-men of ability and energy-who devote their time en tirely to the making and unmaking of public officials. If these men could be taken out of politics and furnished employment in useful cupations, it would be a great gain to the country. This could be accomplished in some measure by making the Presidental term six or siders are wanted or we must erect spitable buildings for their accommodation. Without more houses of all kinds the much further growth of the city is impossible, and we might as well build a wall around it at once."

Buying. The bears ruled the roost at the Oil Exchange yesterday. They got to work as soon as the gong sounded and kept at it all day, holding the price down and raking in sufficient quantities of the deceptive commodity to make themselves solid. The market opened at 93%c. Almost immediately it weakened and sold Almost immediately it weakened and sold down to 92%c. It then rallied slowly to 92%c, and hung between that and 92c through the middle of the day, when it encountered another wave of depression and dropped to 91%c. This was too much for the bulls, and, after great efforts, they raised the figures to 92c, around which the market hovered until near the close, when it went to pieces again, bringing up at 91%c. This was succeeded by a little spurt to 91%c, which were the final figures.

little spurt to $1%c, which were the final figures.

The slump was a surprise to many, and was in the face of heavy buying in the East, which made it still more inexplicable. While this expresses the sentiment of the bull element, others have maintained all along, since the decline from $3%c, the highest point reached since last fall, that the market had seen its best for the present and would gradually seek a lower level until 90c or below was reached, about April 1, when there would be a reaction of 2 or 5 cents. Between these conflicting views outsiders must make their choice. The best that can be said for the market is that it is as liable to go one way as another. Trading was active during the first and last hours, but very light in the middle of the day.

With the Political Outlook at Washington Stocks Lose Their Grip Under Heavy Realizing and Other Bearish Influences-Bonds Quiet.

NEW YORK, March 5.-The stock market was weak and declining during the forenoon to-day, and losses were sustained, which, notwithstanding the strong tone of the latter por-tion of the day, were not fully recovered, and the result of the day's operations is to leave most of the list fractionally lower than last evening. The London quotations were lower this morning, and there was comparatively heavy selling from that center in the early trading, the pressure being from the continent. The favorites of that center were all weak, and especially Louisville and Nashville and St. Paul,

Other influences worked against the market, and the failure of the Reading Iron Works created an unfavorable impression. The most potent of the local influences, however, was the realizations in Manhattan on the rise of the past week and the disappointment in some directions over the declaration of a scrip divi-dend, and the stock dropped over 4 per cent. Other specialties showed marked weakness, and Oregon Short Line Navigation, Pullman

Other specialties showed marked weakness, and Oregon Short Line Navigation, Pullman and some others declined a point or more. The aspect of political affairs in Washington met with general approval, however, and when the pressure was removed there was a sharp recovery in the specialties and most of the general list were brought up to the level of the opening figures, and in some cases fractionally further.

After noon the tone of the general list underwent a marked change for the better, but the improving tendency was held in check by a further drop in Mauhattan, which reached 184%, a drop of 4% per cent from its first price. Tennessee Coal was the strong feature, but was afterward superseded by Short Line, which rose as rapidly as Manhattan had risen 4% per cent, the rest of the list following slowly. Realizations on the advance from the lowest figures again sagged the list off slightly, but the close was firm at the concession. In the last hour Chesapeake and Ohio first preferred stock rose rapidly and scored a material gain for the day. Almost the entire list is small fractions lower this evening. Manhattan lost 3, Pullman 2% and Missouri Pacific 1 per cent, while Short Line and Chesapeake and Ohio first preferred stock rose rapidly and scored a material gain for the day. Almost the entire list is small fractions lower this evening. Manhattan lost 3, Pullman 2% and Missouri Pacific 1 per cent, while Short Line and Chesapeake and Ohio first preferred rose 2% each. Railroad bonds were not as active as yesterday and the tone of the dealings was not so strong, the changes being fairly divided between gains and losses. The sales of all issness aggregated $1,833,000, of which Ohio Southern incomes furnished $138,000 and the Denver and Rio Grande Western assented $111,000.

ELECTRIC LIGHT MOVEMENTS.

The Thomson-Houston Company Increase Its Capital to $15,000,000-Consolidation and Street Railway Projects Said to be in View-More Reports as to the Edison Companies.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 Boston, March 5.-There has been unusual xcitement in electric circles during the past lew days owing to the rapid advance of the stock of the Thomson-Houston Company. The Boston Herald of the 2d says: "A feature on the street to-day was the private dealing in Thomson-Houston electric shares, which shot up from about 200 to 200 on prospective rights. Gossip said one share of new preferred would be given for one present common share at 25. be given for one present common share at 25, with a share of common thrown in. Gossip further said that the company earned more than 100 per cent on its capital in 1888; to be precise, 120 per cent, or $1,200,000 on $1,000,000 precise, 120 per cent, or $1,200,000 on $1,000,000 common stock. An incentive to the buying was unquestionably the signing by Governor Bulkeley, of Connecticut yesterday of the bill giving this company authority to incresse its capital to $10,000,000 common and $5,000,000 preferred stock.

A careful inquiry among interested and other parties indicates that the Thomson-Houston Company have begun negotiations with Henry Villard, through Mr. Garrison, with the view of securing Villard's option on the Edison stocks, and thus secure control of the Edison Company, which in such case would thereafter be operated under Thomson-Houston management, though it is likely the name of the Edison Company would be retained for commercial reasons.

If the negotiation of Garrison with Villard succeeds it will practically divide the electric business of the country between two large concerns, the Thomson-Houston and the Westinghouse Electric Company, of Pittsburg, between which companies there is already said to be some business relations relating to lamps and other details.

Rumor has it that the Thomson-Houston

Rumor has it that the Thomson-Houston

Rumor has it that the Thomson-Houston Company proposes to confine its own peculiar business to street railway work exclusively, allowing the lighting to go on under the arrangement with Edison companies, and that the Boston street railways will adout the overhead electric system of operation in preference to an underground cable system.

It is a fact that for some reason the shares of the Thomson-Houston Company, having assets of less than $4,000,000, have suddenly risen to figures making the present market value of its issued stock nearly three times the value of its assets; and there is the keenest competition in the search for particulars.

DOMESTIC MARKETS.

Genuine Butter Booming-Butterine Dealers Grow Timid.

DOMESTIC SWISS CHEESE SLOW.

General Drift of Cereals Downward---Markets Sluggish.

COFFEE IS STILL ON THE ASCENT

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURG DISPATCH, L TUESDAY, March à, 1889. Country Produce-Jobbing Prices. The Elgin Butter Board, at its regular meet ing on Monday, made no change in prices. All genuine butter is on the boom. A Liberty street commission man said to-day that his customers were ordering a half-dozen tubs where they ordered one a few weeks ago. It has become entirely too risky to handle butter-ine when a fine and imprisonment stares dealers in the face. Eggs are easy. Sweitzer and Limburg cheese are easy. Sweitzer and Limburg cheese are quiet, and prices are shaded with cash customers. Factories are overstocked with American Sweitzer cheese, and there is a disposition to unload, which depresses markets. Prices on domestic Sweitzer are now 3 to 5 cents lower at jobbing rates than this time last year, and Limburg is 2 cents lower. A leading authority on cheese says that Sweitzer cheese brings little more than the staple Ohio cheese brings little more than the staple Ohio cheese, a thing unprecedented in the trade.
